NOFA/RI

The Northeast Organic Farming Association of Rhode Island (NOFA/RI) is an organization of farmers, consumers, gardeners and environmentalists working to promote organic farming and organic land care practices. Since 1991, NOFA/RI fosters a healthy relationship to the natural world through educational workshops, advocacy and participation in local and regional events. NOFA/RI works to increase the acres of sustainably and organically managed land and to provide access to local, organic food for all Rhode Islanders.

NOFA/RI represents organic farmers on the RI Organic Advisory Committee concerning the RI Department of Environmental Management's (RI DEM's) Organic Certification program.

Mentoring and Education

Since 1999, our Organic Farm Advisor program has provided FREE technical guidance to new and experienced organic and sustainable farmers wishing to implement organic methods on their farms. Experienced organic farmers offer assistance or training in many areas.

- 🌱 Farm and garden planning
- 🌱 Marketing, business planning, record keeping
- 🌱 Soil building, raised bed production
- 🌱 Cover crops and crop rotation
- 🌱 Pest and disease management
- 🌱 Greenhouse and high tunnel growing
- 🌱 Safe tractor, tool and implement use
- 🌱 Salad greens, herb or cut flower production
- 🌱 Weed control
- 🌱 Post-harvest handling and marketing
- 🌱 Farmers Market sales
- 🌱 Organic certification & NRCS assistance applications

Educational Workshops and Mentoring

NOFA/RI operates educational programs with a generous Farm Viability grant from the USDA Specialty Crop Block Grant program. The RI Department of Environmental Management's Division of Agriculture administers this grant, focused on enhancing farmers' ability to grow and market specialty crops. NOFA/RI will be operating in its third renewal of this two-year grant for the period: April 1, 2015 – March 31, 2017. This grant supports CRAFT On-Farm Workshops, Advanced Grower Seminars and Organic Farming Advisors.

NOFA/RI hosts eight Collaborative Regional Alliance for Farmer Training (CRAFT) on-farm workshop each year, sharing farmer experiences and best practices. Experienced organic farmers lead two Advanced Grower Seminars each year in a classroom setting. Farmers and gardeners learn about raising specialty crops, greenhouse management, soil fertility and other topics. Our Organic Farm Advisors work one-on-one with new and experienced farmers seeking to improve their organic practices and farm viability.

NOFA Interstate Council

NOFA/RI is affiliated with six other NOFA chapters through the Natural Organic Farmers Association (NOFA) Interstate Council. The Interstate Council advocates for regional and national policies that support organic growers and produces "The Natural Farmer," a quarterly newspaper with features on organic farming techniques, certification issues, organic market conditions and relevant policy and environmental developments. The Interstate Council works with archivist Robert Cox at the University of Massachusetts/Amherst to chronicle the history of the organic food movement in the northeast. The Interstate Council also hosts a Summer Conference, typically held at UMass/Amherst.

NOFA History

The Natural Organic Farmers Association (NOFA) was formed in Vermont and New Hampshire in 1971. The Maine Organic Farmers and Gardeners Association (MOFGA) was established in the early 1970s. Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York started NOFA chapters in 1982. The Rhode Island and New Jersey NOFA chapters formed later. NOFA and MOFGA have been powerful advocates for organic agriculture and sustainable practices for over 40 years.

In 1989, NOFA changed its name to the Northeast Organic Farming Association. The term "Natural" had been overused by then. Changing "Farmers" to "Farming" welcomed gardeners and consumers as well as growers.

Organic Agriculture

The USDA National Organic Standards Board (NOSB), defines organic agriculture as "an ecological production management system that promotes and enhances biodiversity, biological cycles and soil biological activity. It is based on minimal use of off-farm inputs and on management practices that restore, maintain or enhance ecological harmony. The primary goal of organic agriculture is to optimize the health and productivity of interdependent communities of soil life, plants, animals and people." (NOSB, 1997)

Advertising and Marketing Opportunities

NOFA/RI sends e-Newsletters 1-2 times each month, (16 per year) offer advertising in the NOFA Interstate Council's quarterly farm journal, The Natural Farmer and maintain a robust website (nofari.org). We also send Action Alert emails as needed through the year. Each year we host two Advanced Grower Seminars and eight on-farm CRAFT Workshops. Every other year, we hold a Winter Conference. We often hold a fall fundraising event.

We offer advertising opportunities in our eNews, Action Alerts and on our website. We offer exhibit space and sponsorship opportunities at our Winter Conference. Our Corporate Sponsorship Marketing Program provides participants with a range of exposure across our publications, conference and events.

NOFA/RI eNews

Our online publication is filled with educational events and food policy news for Rhode Island's organic growers and consumers. We include upcoming educational workshops and conferences along with funding opportunities and other farm viability tools.

Our eNews go out to nearly 700 NOFA/RI subscribers and supporters. This includes farmers, gardeners, landscapers and consumers. We are pleased to say our open rate is 45% above industry average. Between 33% and 39% of our subscribers are committed enews readers.

This wonderful eblast opportunity offers maximum exposure. Readers need only open our eNews and to see your ad(s). Ads will have a live link to your website where readers can learn more about your products or services. To help ensure readers maintain interest in our enews, we limit each enews to two (2) ads per enews. Be sure to reserve your space. For consistency, we offer one size ad at 3" wide by 1.5" tall.

We accept ads as high quality jpg files (300 dpi or higher). The cost for a single placement is $75. Buy a package of five (5) ads to run for a season and receive one ad free - a 20% discount ($300 total instead of $375).

Ad copy and payment are due by the first of each month for placement in that month's eNews. Please reserve your space at least two weeks before the month you wish your ad(s) to run.

If you wish to place an ad, contact Sanne Kure-Jensen, Administrator at (401) 369-3303 or email nofari@live.org.
